

The Saxon data protection officer presented its activity report for the past year in Dresden.

The report is essentially still based on the work of the data protection authority under its predecessor Andreas Schurig, whose term of office ended on December 31, 2021.

Order a print copy via the central brochure dispatch

press release

press photo