press release

BayLDA extends hotline for clubs and volunteers

The Bavarian State Office for Data Protection Supervision (BayLDA) has from July 9th

Hotline set up in 2018 for clubs and volunteers by three months

November 2018 extended.

Even if the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), which also applies to associations and voluntary term is relevant, has been known for over two years, have many clubs and volunteers it was not noticed until May of this year when it took effect. Conditionally also due to a large amount of incorrect information about the specific requirements, official sector, there is considerable uncertainty as to what requirements the new European European data protection law to clubs and volunteers.

In the last few weeks, the BayLDA has therefore distributed numerous information events with up to 550 participants about the new law (and what always applied, but was not really observed), the information on the homepage ge (www.lida.bayern.de) and installed a hotline, which is available under the number 0981-531810 was and is achievable.

This hotline was not used to the extent that we had expected. But she asks nevertheless a targeted information option and relief for the BayLDA office

We have therefore decided to continue this hotline for another three months in a may offer appropriate scope. This means that the "Hotline for clubs and voluntary lich Active in Bavaria" in the new service hours from Monday to Friday from 09.00 to 09.00

4 p.m. remains in place. For callers who cannot get through during this time men, we have installed a mailbox where you can leave your number, under which you can then prompt call back.

This should make it possible for all those responsible in the club and voluntary sector to be able to provide sufficient information about which requirements they specifically fulfill under the GDPR have to len. Then you should too.

In order to be able to devote more attention to the topics associated with risky data processing are connected, which is rarely found in the club and voluntary sector, the That's why information events like the ones we've been offering over the last few weeks mostly discontinued.

The General Data Protection Regulation obliges those responsible, i. H. those with personal handle the personal data of others to comply with data protection regulations.

This obligation also applies to associations, represented by the respective board members.

"We assume," says Thomas Kranig, President of the BayLDA, "that the information on our homepage and the additional option to ask questions on the now extended hotline provide sufficient assistance to ensure that the volunteers in the clubs are able to manageable requirements according to the GDPR in their respective organizations well and easily to be able to fulfil.”
