According to § 9 paragraph 1a of the current Saxon Corona Protection Ordinance, employees who have not worked for at least five working days in a row due to vacation and comparable official or work exemption must submit a daily updated test to the employer on the first working day after this work interruption or in the course of the Conduct a documented proctored test on the first day of work. If the start of work takes place in the home office, the obligation according to sentence 1 applies to the first day on which the work takes place in the company or at other locations outside of one's own home. According to § 9 paragraph 8 of the Saxon Corona Protection Ordinance, it is sufficient to grant inspection of the test or vaccination certificates together with an official identification document in the original.
