In the almost one-hour online event the participants could get to know each other in a compact, free and up-to-date way with the speaker for inform the area of the schools at the LfDI, Mr. Martin Dörr, and then

Ask questions.

What changes are schools facing as a result of the new legal framework?

A house? How do schools deal with the obligation to report data breaches and the notification of the persons concerned? These were some of the themes of the 30 minute lecture.

Specialist Dörr provided interested parties with important and practice-relevant information to these questions and went for another 30 minutes in the subsequent moderated chat on further questions such as the importance of the GDPR for school data protection officer.

The State Commissioner for Data Protection and Freedom of Information, Dr. Stefan

Brink on this: "I am pleased that our first webinar in cooperation with the desakademie in Esslingen met with such great interest. In addition to our class

In addition to technical seminars, webinars are a modern opportunity for further training and information transfer. The advantages are obvious: webinars are not location-based and not necessarily limited to participants. Any interested party can therefore participate in a webinar from anywhere in the world.
